more output template like toplist ??

Hello,

first of all I use AT3 for longer time and I will test FTT since some days. In general I would say FTT works much better for SKIM, Force/Capped, and some other stuff. But I miss the nice printout of the traders like as AT3 has the possibility to define the cols in the template section and the possibility to define a color for the trader.

As I am a programmer I would ask if there is any solution to define self written templates for output stats/output lists like as it is possible for the toplist output ?? In fact that the code is coded with Zend I can't do it by self :)

Any time table for individuall templates in the future ??

Alex

Yes, that will be in FTT 2.0, but I can't give you now timeline for that. Busy with another project - rotator script with some unique features and tube sites support.
You can modify code if you want.
